We make every effort to keep any increase as low as possible and not exceed on average 5% of the training cost. All deposits are non-refundable. Late fees will incur interest.

In the event of student's change of personal circumstances resulting in difficulty in meeting financial obligation she/he should contact the Course Director as soon as possible so that a mutually appropriate solution can be sought.

If a student decides to withdraw from the training part way through the year, the full fees for that year are payable. If a student has been asked to withdraw from the training the fees payable are up to and including that term.

Students who completed the training but have not submitted the course work and not completed all course requirements will be charged an annual administration fee until they fully graduate.
